Missing out on the mobile revolution?

AccessMyLAN from AT&T™

Get the big business benefits of empowering your employees with mobile access without the cost or complexity of a big business solution.

Q Are your employees making the most of the smartphones, tablets and laptops they're using? Is your business seeing a return on your mobile investment and the boost in productivity you expected?

A If they're unable to use their mobile devices to connect into your office systems or they're running up exorbitant data charges, then the answer is almost certainly "no".

Mobile management is a web-based service that is simple to deploy and easy to manage. You get full control for minimal expense – just the solution monthly subscription charge.

- No setup costs
- No hardware /software investment required
- Support services are free
- No contract
- No Limits – Scale up for new employees or cancel the service if someone leaves

For just $9.99 per device, per month, you get three key features:

Business connected

Provide remote access for each user, enabling them to securely connect to company documents, the intranet, or business applications behind your firewall, from any AT&T device, anytime and anywhere.

Mobility management

Control the costs of mobile data usage, avoiding "bill shock" when someone exceeds their data plan, and drive productivity by applying policies on what each employee can and can't do online.

M2M

Use machine-to-machine connectivity to provide private static IP addresses in an instant. Connect point-of-sale systems, for example, or tracking equipment in the supply chain – to speed up processes in remote places.

To find out more visit www.att.com/accessmylan

©2015 AT&T Intellectual Property. All rights reserved. AT&T and Globe logo are registered trademarks of AT&T Intellectual Property.