International Travel Tips

Enable your Corporate Responsibility Users to use your domestic plan when they travel in over 200 countries for a low daily fee of $10/day per line ($5/day per line for up to 4 other lines on the same billing account that incur a daily fee on the same day). Add International Day Pass for Business – Multiline (IDPBM) to each device on an AT&T Business Unlimited Elite plan or AT&T Business Unlimited Performance plan before your Corporate Responsibility Users travel, then follow these tips to help manage costs and make the most of their work travel:

How it works

While abroad, if your Corporate Responsibility Users use data, send a text, make or accept a call or listen to a voicemail, you will be charged a per line daily fee for them to have access to their domestic plan for the next 24 hours. During that period, your users can:

- Use domestic data to email, post on social media, use maps, convert currency, translate languages, book excursions, use mobile tickets and more.
- Make unlimited calls back to the U.S., to the country they’re in and to other IDPBM countries.
- Send unlimited texts to the world. Texts received are rated as domestic and do not trigger a daily fee.

How to call, text and use data internationally

- To call or send a message back to the U.S., dial +1 followed by the 10-digit number.
- To call or send a message to another country, dial + (country code) followed by the local phone number.
- Some devices have settings that automatically add the correct prefix or country code when calling numbers stored in Contacts. For iOS, turn on Dial Assist in device Settings.
- To use cellular data, make sure Data Roaming is turned on in device Settings.

DAILY FEE:

The first time you use data, make or receive a call, or send a text message in an IDPBM country, you’ll automatically be charged a daily fee. Text messages received are rated as domestic and do not trigger a daily fee. The fee covers additional data, calls, and text messages for 24 hours from the initial use in any IDPBM country. You’ll be charged an additional daily fee for all subsequent 24-hour periods in which you use data, make or receive a call, or send a text message in an IDPBM country, unless you remove IDPBM.

Reduced Daily Fee:
The standard daily fee is $10 per day per line. However, when 5 or fewer lines on your billing account are charged an IDPBM daily fee on the same calendar date, 1 of these lines will be charged the standard daily fee of $10, and up to 4 of these lines will be charged a reduced daily fee of $5 per line. If 6 or more lines on your billing account are charged an IDPBM daily fee on the same calendar date, 4 of these lines will be charged the reduced daily fee of $5 per line, and the remaining 2 or more lines will be charged the standard daily fee of $10 per line. Calendar date is determined by your local U.S. time zone, not the country you visited. The line(s) charged $10 are not necessarily the line(s) used first on that date.

COUNTRIES: For a list of IDPBM countries, go to att.com/idpbcountries. Coverage is not available in all areas. Countries and rates are subject to change without notice. Mexico and Canada: You will not be charged a daily fee in Mexico or Canada if you have a domestic plan that includes usage in Mexico or Canada.

DATA: Data will be drawn from your domestic plan with the same data and speed restrictions. Data Restriction for AT&T Business Unlimited Performance: After 50GB, AT&T may temporarily slow data speeds if the network is busy. Additionally, Stream Saver will apply to the IDPBM feature unless you turn Stream Saver off using self-service (att.com/mvatt or att.com/premier, as applicable) or by calling 611.

The “+” sign typically appears if you press and hold the “0” key on your dial pad.

How to help manage costs

- When users don’t plan to use their phones, they should turn off Data Roaming in the device Settings to avoid being charged a daily fee.
- Users can save data by connecting to Wi-Fi, especially to download or send large files, and when streaming video.
