AT&T International Day Pass® for Business – Travel Tips

Use your domestic plan when traveling in 210 destinations and on select enabled international flights for $10 per day per line ($12 per day per line starting on 5/14/2024). Add International Day Pass for Business to your device on an eligible wireless plan for business and/or government customers before you go, then follow these tips to help manage costs and make the most of your travels:

How it works

While abroad, if you use data, send a text, make or accept a call, or listen to a voicemail, you will be charged $10 per day per line ($12 per day per line starting on 5/14/2024) to use your domestic plan for the next 24 hours. During that period you can:

- Use your domestic data plan to email, translate languages, use maps, convert currency, post on social media, book excursions, use mobile tickets, and more.
- Make unlimited calls back to the U.S., to the country you're in and to other IDP Destinations included in International Day Pass for Business.
- Send unlimited texts to the world. Texts received are rated as domestic and do not trigger a daily fee.

How to help manage costs

When you don't plan to use your phone, turn off Data Roaming in your device settings to avoid being charged for unintentional data usage.

Save data by connecting to Wi-Fi, especially to download or send large files, and when streaming video.

How to call, text, and use data internationally

- To call or send a message back to the U.S., dial +1 followed by the 10-digit number.¹
- To call or send a message to another country, dial + (country code) followed by the local phone number.¹
- Some devices have settings that automatically add the correct prefix or country code when calling numbers stored in your Contacts. For iOS, turn on Dial Assist in your device Settings.
- To use cellular data, make sure Data Roaming is turned on in your device Settings.

¹ The "+" sign typically appears if you press and hold the "0" key on your dial pad.
