

RingCentral Office@Hand from AT&T

Glip for Office@Hand

With the increased flow of applications to the cloud, juggling projects is becoming more complicated. Luckily Office@Hand users can now work together with Glip team messaging.

Glip for Office@Hand brings together your calendar, tasks, chat, online meetings, and file sharing in one intuitive and attractive application. You can collaborate with individuals and teams simply and enjoyably when you're in the office, out of the office, or anywhere in between.

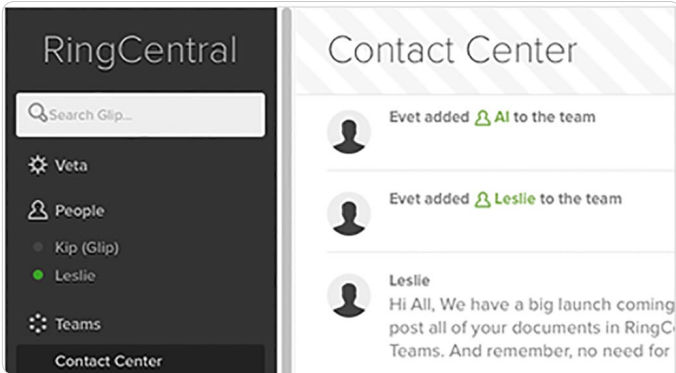

Features and benefits

- Glip is included with your Office@Hand subscription.
- Manage projects in one interface with group chat, video conferencing, calendar scheduling and more.
- Glip for Office@Hand works on your computer and mobile devices, so you can collaborate with coworkers and clients everywhere you go.
- Glip for Office@Hand serves as a knowledge base for files in Box, Dropbox™, Zendesk®, and hundreds of other applications.
- Host video and audio conferences in just a few clicks.
- Make annotations on images, and cut down on email tag and rounds of changes.
- Share files with automatic version control, and complete projects with more efficiency.

Download the Office@Hand app for iPhone®, iPad®, and Android™ devices—the perfect complement to your Office@Hand service.

Work better together

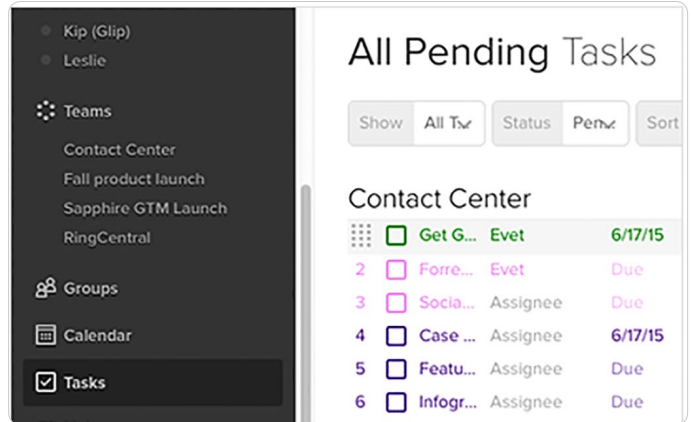

Get out of your email fog.

Work together with your team in real time with messaging and integrated task management. Then, add the power and reach of Office@Hand communications to watch productivity take off and email clutter go away.

Integrate the applications you use most.

We know you use lots of tools. That's why we make all of your tools work together right from the start. By integrating the applications your team uses most—including JIRA, Zendesk, Box, and Evernote—collaboration and communication become more powerful.

Eliminate stand-alone task management tools.

Work is about getting things done. Glip for Office@Hand adds another dimension to teamwork by making it more efficient with integrated task and project management. With everything in the same place, you'll stay on the same page. And together with Office@Hand, you'll be able to connect with team members via voice, SMS, and messaging.

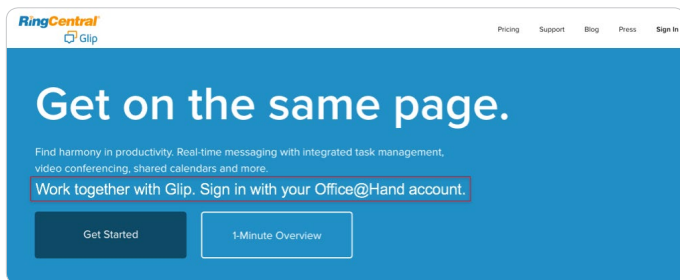

Project Description for Strategic Exploration Fall Launch

Overall Objective

- Explore the implications of key strategic options of
- Provide more detail
- Show

Easily share files with team members.

Working on joint documents has never been easier. RingCentral with Office@Hand enables you to edit and comment on a shared document offline—or to work on it together via Office@Hand Meetings. With RingCentral Glip, you work the way that works for you.

Get Glip Now

Sign in to Glip with your Office@Hand account.